DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

This application contains claims directed to more than one species of the generic invention. These species are deemed to lack unity of invention because they are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1. Biebuyck et al. (US 5734225) teaches encapsulation of organic light emitting devices using a transparent siloxane (polymer composition) (column 2, lines 53-58), which seals the organic device (column 3, lines 34-36) and is flexible (column 7, lines 21-23). Therefore, since the limitations of the claims fail to define a contribution over the cited prior art, they fail to constitute a special technical feature and thus, there is a lack of unity of invention between the claims.

The species are as follows:

Species A(1): directed to a transparent sealant formed of a flexible polymer composition comprising a diene-based polymer, said diene-based polymer is a hydrogenated product of a conjugated diene-based block polymer comprising: one butadiene polymer block (I) with a vinyl bond in an amount of less than 25%, and a polymer block (II) of a conjugated diene unit and other monomer in a ratio of 50:50 to 100:0 and having a vinyl bond in an amount from 25 to 95%.

Species A(2): directed to a transparent sealant formed of a flexible polymer composition comprising a diene-based polymer, said diene-based polymer is a hydrogenated product of a conjugated diene-based block polymer comprising: at least one block polymer of a conjugated diene unit and an aromatic vinyl compound in a mass ratio of 99:1 to 50:50, and having a vinyl bond in an amount from 65 to 95% and hydrogenated.

Species B: directed to a transparent sealant formed of a flexible polymer composition comprising an olefin-based polymer.

NOTE: The applicants must first elect either Species A or B; if the applicants elect Species A, the applicants must then elect between Species A(1) or A(2). See below for claim distribution.

Applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single species to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. The reply must also identify the claims readable on the elected species, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered non-responsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise require all the limitations of an allowed generic claim. Currently, the following claim(s) are generic: claims 1-4 and 10-11

The claims are deemed to correspond to the species listed above in the following manner:

Species A: claims 5-7

Species A(1): claims 5-6

Species A(2): claims 5 and 7

Species B: claims 8-9

The following claim(s) are generic: claims 1-4 and 10-11.

1. REQUIREMENT FOR UNITY OF INVENTION

As provided in 37 CFR 1.475(a), a national stage application shall relate to one invention only or to a group of inventions so linked as to form a single general inventive concept (“requirement of unity of invention”). Where a group of inventions is claimed in a national stage application, the requirement of unity of invention shall be fulfilled only when there is a technical relationship among those inventions involving one or more of the same or corresponding special technical features. The expression “special technical features” shall mean those technical features that define a contribution which each of the claimed inventions, considered as a whole, makes over the prior art.

The determination whether a group of inventions is so linked as to form a single general inventive concept shall be made without regard to whether the inventions are claimed in separate claims or as alternatives within a single claim. See 37 CFR 1.475(e).

WHEN CLAIMS ARE DIRECTED TO MULTIPLE CATEGORIES OF INVENTIONS

As provided in 37 CFR 1.475(b), a national stage application containing claims to different categories of invention will be considered to have unity of invention if the claims are drawn only to one of the following combinations of categories:

- (1) A product and a process specially adapted for the manufacture of said product; or
- (2) A product and process of use of said product; or
- (3) A product, a process specially adapted for the manufacture of the said product, and a use of the said product; or

(4) A process and an apparatus or means specifically designed for carrying out the said process; or

(5) A product, a process specially adapted for the manufacture of the said product, and an apparatus or means specifically designed for carrying out the said process.

Otherwise, unity of invention might not be present. See 37 CFR 1.475(c).

2. Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement may be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To preserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse. Traversal must be presented at the time of election in order to be considered timely. Failure to timely traverse the requirement will result in the loss of right to petition under 37 CFR 1.144. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which of these claims are readable on the elected invention or species.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the inventions have unity of invention (37 CFR 1.475(a)), applicant must provide reasons in support thereof. Applicant may submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the inventions to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. Where such evidence or admission is provided by applicant, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.

3. Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
